

Local Leaders of Education

Do you have a personal conviction to strive for the success of all schools and their students and not just your own?

- Are you committed to working with other school leaders and teachers to help them be successful?
- Does your own school have the capacity and expertise to support other schools? Are you eager to learn from others?

The Local Leader of Education is at the heart of a school led system where schools take responsibility for improving student outcomes through school to school support. LLEs are successful Headteachers/Heads of School who work alongside other school leaders to drive forward improvements and build capacity to ensure that improvements can be sustained.

The role of the LLE is to work outside their own school, providing support to another Headteacher and their school with the aim of school improvement. The role is flexible and based on context and may involve:

- Coaching and supporting a new Headteacher who would benefit from assistance in the transition period to maintain momentum in their school's improvement.
- Offering peer challenge and support to a Headteacher to ensure impact in school improvement strategies.
- Conducting a diagnostic assessment to gain understanding of the extent of a school needs
- Providing focused support to a school identified through the inspection framework as 'requires improvement' or vulnerable to under-performance.

Deployment as an LLE may involve offering individual support, support in partnership with another system leader (SLE, NLE, NLG) and could involve staff from the LLE's school.
